

Routes Read Me.txt

Please note that it may be necessary to combine parts of two different routes to make a complete passage from the United States to the United Kingdom. The C-47 was used for all flights less than 1200 nm and the C-54 was used for all flights greater than 1200 nm. This means that it would be necessary to switch from a C-47 to a C-54 on the same route. This was probably not done in actual practice.

G. Goddard
DCA 1447
November 12, 2007